

This Prophetic word was given at Russellville First Assembly 8/18/19 by Shannon Yarbrough.

“Let me tell you. You’re about to experience a travailing of the Spirit because you’re about to birth something coming out of you. This will be a birth of souls, deep resonating souls. It will come from the North. It will come from the South. It will come from the East and It will come from the West.

What has looked like a time of weary travail has been a time of me networking my men and women together. I have combined them. I have moved them into one mind and one accord with the sole purpose of moving forward.

I want you to understand that there will be a brokenness in your spirit for souls. There will be a time when you won’t sleep. There will be a time that you won’t rest. There will be a time when you will see people you’ve never seen before. There will be a time you will hear my word like you’ve never heard it before.

Don’t sway. Don’t go away. Don’t bow down. You stand firm in what I’m telling you because I have created a Lord of Host Army.

Listen to me – there is a network of people that are stronger, bigger and mightier. They are not afraid of a Goliath. They are not afraid of a lion spirit. There is a united front that has risen up.

Get ready. Get ready. Get ready for a birthing, a mighty birthing, that you have never experienced before. I have marked you! I have marked you and you will be the people that birth forth a revival that this River Valley has never ever seen. It will go to the North. It will go to the South. It will go to the East. It will go to the West. Today is the day of a birthing!
